MC on the mark

AN avid Port Adelaide supporter, Hilltop Hoods' MC Pressure is finally pulling on the guernsey as he takes part in the Slowdown at Adelaide Oval on October 2. Known for his skills with the microphone, Pressure admits he won't be troubling the All-Australian selectors.

"I haven't played since high school so I'll be going up to the local oval and having a few dobs," he laughs.

"I was a terrible footballer and it's going to be ugly.

"I've been playing gridiron for the last 10 years so I'm used to playing team sports but I'm not getting my hopes up."

The club contacted Pressure after he let slip at a function that if certain "other" celebrities could do it then so could he. It will be the first time a hip hop artist has graced the charity event with their presence and the MC isn't sure if he'll be reclaiming his position on the wing but hopes to be on the ball.

On a break from touring with The Hoods, Pressure says his biggest challenge will be getting back into "those shorts" again.
